

BRITISH PARSON TO GIVE DUKE BLESSING

NAZI, ITALIAN BATTLE FLEET BLOCKS SPAIN

British Worried At Plans To Stop All Soviet Ships

Rome, June 2.—(AP)—Italian warships established a virtual blockade of eastern Spain today to prevent Russian vessels from carrying war supplies to the Madrid-Valencia government.

A reinforced German battle fleet was understood here to be cooperating with the Italian men of war in their determined move to stop Soviet ships from running munitions to the Spanish government.

Italian political circles considered the recent decision of Premier Mussolini as, in effect, clamping down the ineffectual blockade which Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco had attempted to establish on the Mediterranean coast of Spain.

The ports, including the important ones of Valencia itself and Barcelona, blockaded by the warships of Italy and Germany are the same ones which they were assigned to patrol as part of the international non-intervention committee's effort to end the flow of arms and munitions to both sides in the civil war.

It was understood here, although without confirmation, the blockade units would use such force as was necessary to keep contraband of war from reaching the armies which are fighting to put down Francisco Franco's armed bid for power.

The insurgent Franco regime is recognized by both Germany and Italy as the true government of Spain. This action would go beyond the function exercised by the Italian and German warships as part of the non-intervention patrol. While flying the flag of the 27-nation committee patrol, ships had no power to stop merchantmen forcibly.

JOINT NAVAL ACTION
London, June 2.—(AP)—Great Britain was reported today to be considering a plan for joint naval action against Spain to offset the establishment of a virtual Italian blockade of ports held by the Spanish government.

Convinced of the necessity of preventing any new critical incidents in the civil war, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was understood to have taken under advisement the plan which would grant Italy and Germany's demands for guaranteed protection of their fleets in Spanish waters.

The British admiralty was reported to be considering dispatch of additional ships to the troubled area. The battle squadrons of both Italy and Germany already off Spain were being reinforced.

Under the proposal Eden was said to have before him for immediate action, the warships of Britain, France, Germany and Italy would unite as an international fleet against Spain in the event of any further molesting of vessels of the "hand-off Spain" committee.

The foreign office was said to be convinced that speedy action was necessary to bring Italy and Germany back within the non-intervention set-up. They quit the committee Monday after Germany's withdrawal.

Also, defeat is contagious, and there is no doubt that Roosevelt has lost the first round in the court reform fight. The idea gets round that if the president can be defeated on one thing he can be defeated on another.

If allowed to go unchecked, this results in a runaway congress. This was one thing that ruined Hoover.

This also is one reason Roosevelt is working overtime herding his straying congressmen back into the fold. Those who have talked with him say he is getting tougher and more hard-boiled. He has refused to give ground an inch, insisting on the whole administration program or nothing.

If he is tough enough and admit enough, he may get it—though this time it isn't going to be so easy.

A. F. of L. Raiders
One grudge which Bill Green's A. F. of L. has against the C. I. O. is that the industrial unionites are encroaching on the preserves of established craft unions. Yet at this very moment three of the biggest A. F. of L. affiliates are conducting aggressive raids in territory long claimed by the railroad brotherhoods.

One of the A. F. of L. foragers is the Longshoremen's union, which is trying to wrest waterfront freight handlers (employed by railroads) away from the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks. Seaports in every part of the country are involved in this row. It is so bitter that Roosevelt recently stepped in and named a mediation board under the National Labor Act.

Most ironic sidelight is that Geo. M. Harrison, head of the railway clerks, is a member of the A. F. of L. Executive Council which ousted the C. I. O. union.

Second ruckus is between the Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Men and Carpenters' union, biggest craft unit in the A. F. of L. The latter organization, headed Lewis' CIO already has won exclusive bargaining rights.

Chicago.—Bloody battlefront quiet but 1,000 police reserves in readiness for any recurrence of Sunday rioting as mass funeral planned for five victims.

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—A newly constructed barbed wire fence stretched across the main entrance of the Republic Steel Corporation's South Chicago plant formed a second line of defense today in the strike torn zone where six persons lost their lives in a riot.

Almost a thousand policemen who patrolled the mill in eight-hour shifts constituted the first bulwark against further attempts to close the plant, lone major independent operating unit in the Calumet area of Illinois and Indiana.

Six companies, totaling 948 officers, were assigned to the area on reports that unionists and sympathizers planned another demonstration. At the same time plant workmen erected the barbed wire, closing the gap in the 10 foot wooden fence which surrounds the mill.

Toll Reaches Six
The death toll in Sunday's clash between demonstrators and police reached six last night when Anthony Tagliori, 26, a Republic striker, succumbed to a bullet wound in the abdomen. Twenty-three of the more than 100 persons injured remained in hospitals.

Police held 66 persons in custody as participants in the riot. Supervising Capt. James Mooney said they would be arraigned on charges of conspiracy to commit an illegal act.

Van A. Bittner, regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, sponsor of the strike, reaffirmed the union's determination to force Republic into a written contract guaranteeing the S. W. O. C. bargaining rights for its members.

"We'll get those workers out of the plant without violence," he said.

Chicago Man, in "Iron Lung," Starts Journey Home From China Today

Elaborate Arrangements Made For Costly Trip

Peiping, China, June 2.—(AP)—Imprisoned in an "iron lung" to maintain respiration, Frederic B. Snite, Jr., 26, of Chicago left today for Shanghai on the first leg of a homeward journey half-way around the earth.

Smiling and joking with his attendants, the infantile paralysis victim endured the transfer from the Union Medical College hospital to the Shanghai train without a murmur but expressed sadness at saying good-bye to friends he had made here.

Stricken on a world tour 14 months ago, the young Chicagoan faced the most trying test on the voyage from Shanghai to San Francisco.

The journey from Peiping to Chicago will cost about $50,000 and necessitated the attendance of more than a score of physicians, nurses and technicians required to keep the "iron lung" in constant operation.

Plans Work Out
The plans worked out with precision today. Snite was taken from his room and lowered two floors to be removed through a basement corridor while electricians hurriedly renewed connections necessary to keep the apparatus in operation.

The man and the life-preserving machine were wheeled aboard an ambulance equipped with an electric generator. At the railroad station they were placed aboard a specially equipped baggage coach with an auxiliary car carrying two generators.

Physicians expressed belief Snite was in excellent condition to withstand the rigors of his trip. He was unable to move his body below the neck and would be unable to live more than five minutes out of the "iron lung."

His face was tan from sun baths taken on the hospital porch in recent days and he was in excellent spirits.

An extra respirator was sent to Shanghai and there was another aboard the liner President Coolidge upon which Snite and his retinue will sail Sunday. Also aboard the ship will be two generators to continue the supply of electricity during the passage.

Earhart Lands in Venezuela Today
Miami, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—Pan-American Airways reported that Amelia Earhart landed at Caripito, Venezuela, at 9:18 A. M. (Central Standard Time) today after a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

It was expected that she and her navigator, Capt. Fred J. Noonan, would remain overnight in the Standard Oil Company's guest house there and take off tomorrow for Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana. From there she probably would proceed to Natal by way of Para, Brazil.

The aviatrix is flying around the world as near the Equator as practicable, making the 28,000-mile journey for pleasure.

Future action in the case was not decided.

Dean has been the center of a series of disturbances both on and off the field since the spring training season began.

DIXON BECOMES DISTRICT OFFICE FOR WATERWAYS

R. G. Heck, Engineer, Opens Headquarters in City

Dixon today became district headquarters for the division of waterways of the state department of public works and buildings. The district of which this city is now headquarters comprises all of northern Illinois except the territory within a 40-mile radius from Chicago.

Formerly Chicago was headquarters for the entire northern Illinois area, but division of the old district gives Dixon the new district headquarters.

R. G. Heck, district engineer, formerly associated with the Chicago district office, arrived in Dixon today and has established his offices above the Valle & O'Malley store. He said he intends to make his home in Dixon. He has been a resident of Chicago.

Mr. Heck said the office here will have jurisdiction over all streams and waterways in northern Illinois outside the Chicago district.

Functions of the waterways division include checking on all bridges and inspections of encroachments, dams, etc. Four inspectors will be under the direction of the district engineer, but they will be located at other points within the district.

Mr. Heck said his department is ready to function immediately, and will continue with the work which formerly was directed from Chicago headquarters.

The vote in the house was 368 to 13, in the senate, 69 to 12.

CRASH BRINGS GRIEF TO TWO ROCKFORD MEN

Land in County Jail in Dixon to Await Hearings on Friday

Jacob Rippentrop, 517 Mulberry street, Rockford, and Frank Vandewalker, 423 Underwood street, Rockford, are in the Lee county jail, awaiting arraignment before Judge Leon Zick in the county court Friday morning. Rippentrop is charged in an information with the operation of an automobile while in a highly intoxicated condition and Vandewalker with being intoxicated on a public highway.

The two Rockford men were arrested yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock by Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy G. P. Finch, when they were called to the Charles Eich farm, one mile west of Franklin Grove on the Lincoln Highway to investigate an automobile accident. Four horses hitched to a drag, which was standing on the shoulder of the highway, were allegedly struck by the Rockford car, driven by Rippentrop, traveling toward Dixon. Two of the animals were injured badly, one of the horses having been thrown on top of the car, caving in the cow and shattering the windshield.

Escape Prevented
The two men attempted to start the car and leave the scene, it is reported, but Eich reached into the wrecked car and took the keys from the switch, preventing their escape. Truck drivers and other motorists are reported to have complained to the sheriff that they had been unable to pass the car from Ashton to the point of the accident and some of the cars which attempted to evade the allegedly intoxicated driver, were forced off the highway.

Rippentrop sustained slight bruises and minor cuts on the hands, but neither was seriously injured. Sheriff Miller filed information in the circuit court this morning and the two men are to be arraigned Friday morning.

First Lady's Tip

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—Here's a tip from Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt: Don't tell your children what not to read.

"I read as a child a good deal that many people would have thought unsuitable to the youthful mind," she told the district federation of women's clubs yesterday.

"But no one ever said anything, so I remembered what was good and what I could understand and the rest disappeared into thin air."

By suggesting there is harm in a book, she said, a parent often creates a curiosity in young people who ordinarily would dismiss the material as dull.

Change Plans
It had been planned to have the civil ceremony read by Mayor Charles Mercier of Monts in the music room. Now, however, that ceremony will be in the salon while the music room will be the scene of the religious service.

The Church of England service will last about 15 minutes and the time of the wedding was set up a half hour yesterday to allow time for it without interrupting the couple's plans to start their honeymoon immediately afterward.

Rogers announced that Windsor and his bride would spend their honeymoon at Wasserebenburg, the Austrian castle they have rented.

Honeymoon Plans
The Duke and Duchess, Rogers said, will leave Chateau Cande by automobile at 6 p. m. to board a special car attached to an Austrian-bound train.

He refused to disclose at what station they would catch the train. The civil ceremony, Rogers said, will be performed between 11:30 a. m. and 11:55 a. m. (4:50 a. m. to 4:55 a. m. CST) and the religious services, to last exactly 20 minutes, will start promptly at noon (5 a. m. CST).

The Duke's spokesman said photographers would be admitted to the chateau grounds about a half hour after the religious ceremony to take pictures of the newlyweds.

He declared the service will be the "regular" religious wedding ceremony but said he did not know whether it would be read from the old or the new Anglican prayer book.

BRAVES IRE OF HEADS OF ANGLICANS

Hurries To France to Wed His 'King' and Wallis

Monts, France, June 2.—(AP)—A fighting North England parson, braving the opposition of the Church of England, will give the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield his religious blessing at their wedding tomorrow.

The middle-aged, "Labor" preacher, the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, vicar of St. Paul's church, Darlington, Eng., will perform the religious ceremony after the civil service is read in the Chateau de Cande music room by Mayor Charles Mercier of Monts.

It came about this way: Edward was called to the telephone last night, after all hope for the described religious consecration of his marriage had been given up. It was the small town vicar, the Rev. Jardine, known for his work among the laboring class.

Allowed No Protest
The preacher gave his former monarch no opportunity to protest. "I am coming," he insisted. Today, without being met at the Tours railroad station, he taxied to Cande and bowed to the Duke.

"I prefer to die rather than see my king married outside the church," proclaimed the Rev. Jardine.

Windsor and Mrs. Warfield were said to have been overjoyed. Both were represented as having been extremely disappointed over the impossibility of finding a clergyman to marry them, because the Anglican church frowns upon remarriage by divorced persons, and Mrs. Warfield had been twice-divorced.

An unfamiliar voice said firmly: "I am coming to marry you."

Herman L. Rogers, the Duke's spokesman, declined to disclose whether Mr. Jardine had received the approval of his bishop to perform the ceremony.

Civil Ceremony
Rogers will give Mrs. Warfield away in the religious ceremony and Major Edward Dudley Metcalfe, the Duke's equerry, will be best man. Rogers and Major Metcalfe will act as witnesses for the couple at the civil ceremony.

Rogers disclosed that Mrs. Warfield will promise "to obey" in the traditional words of the Church of England service.

Mrs. Warfield, he said, would not carry any flowers.

An altar is being set up in the music room where 35 chairs were placed for the guests. Fifteen more were brought into the library for the chateau staff who will hear Windsor and Mrs. Warfield say "I do" through an open door.

The decision to supplement the civil ceremony with the religious service of the Church of England necessitated a quick rearrangement of some of the wedding arrangements.

Rhododendrons, Roses, Vie For June's Tourists In Carolina, Oregon Elaborate Festivals

Lovely June, the month in which spring reaches full bloom and when nature done her finest raiment, is a heavenly interlude between the abrupt changes of early spring's capricious moods, and the withering blasts of summer heat waves.

Of June, James Russell Lowell truly spoke in his "Vision of Sir Launfal," when he penned that immortal lyric, "What is so rare as a day in June! Then if ever we have perfect days!" For flowers what could be more true?

At Asheville, N. C., will occur the 10th anniversary of the Rhododendron Festival which begins the week of June 13. Special events will be planned. Tours during that week will be provided to visitors who would like to see large areas of rhododendron in full bloom. The trip to Pisgah and Craggy Gardens are both possible over modern roads with comfort and safety. After arriving at the end of the road to Craggy Gardens one can easily attain the ride from which one may see a carpet of rhododendron stretching over more than 600 acres as would grace the Elysian Fields themselves.

Activities during the week include the rhododendron parade, band concerts, carnival parade and a number of balls and parties. Mountain flowers are in full bloom. Great or Mexican pinks and whites are in profusion from June 1 to 20.

FORD COMPANY CITED BEFORE LABOR BOARD

Martin Declares Unfair Labor Practices Revealed

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, announced today charges of unfair labor practices had been filed with the national labor relations board against the Ford Motor Company. Martin said over 150 specific cases were cited in the charges at the Detroit and Somerville, Mass., regional offices of the board. He said the charges alleged men were discharged for union activities.

At the same time Martin announced the U. A. W. would go into organization of aircraft industries jointly with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Martin made the announcements at a joint press conference with John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chairman. Prior to the press conference they had been closeted together in Lewis' office for more than an hour.

SUBPOENA EDSSEL FORD

Detroit, June 2.—(AP)—A subpoena was issued today for Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, as a one-man grand jury began an investigation of last week's fight between company employees and members of the United Automobile Workers of America.

Duncan C. McCrea, Wayne county prosecutor, said process servers who called at the Ford company offices were unable to find either Ford or Harry H. Bennett, personnel director.

Six witnesses appeared today before common pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy, conducting the grand jury inquiry on the petition of McCrea.

VAN DEVANTER LEAVES BENCH

Exchanges Career For Gentleman Farmer Role

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—Justice Willis Van Devanter exchanged today his busy 26-year career as a member of the Supreme Court for that of a gentleman-farmer.

His colleagues in a letter expressed "high esteem and warm affection" and "a poignant sense of regret" at his voluntary retirement.

In reply, Van Devanter said he would carry happy memories of the association "together with profound respects and true affection" for each of those remaining.

The 78-year-old justice attended his final session of the court yesterday when the tribunal adjourned until next October. His retirement marks the first change in its membership since Benjamin N. Cardozo was appointed a justice in 1932 to succeed 91-year-old Oliver Wendell Holmes.

To Live Easily

Van Devanter intends to spend most of his time at his 788-acre Maryland farm, acquired more than a year ago. Later on in the summer, he expects to visit the Seignior club, a gathering place for sportsmen in Canada. Despite his age, he is fond of golf, hunting and fishing.

President Roosevelt has given no indication of his intentions in selecting a successor.

INSURANCE CODE PASSES HOUSE: VOTE 145 TO 0

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—(AP)—Director Ernest Palmer's insurance code was passed by the house today on a 145 to 0 roll call and sent back to the senate for concurrence in nine amendments.

No debate preceded the avalanche of "aye" votes, asked as a demonstration of confidence in Palmer, who is recovering from an appendicitis operation. Palmer has backed the voluminous reorganization of insurance laws in three legislative sessions.

Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski in the only speech said the code would improve insurance laws and reminded the house of Palmer's illness.

The overwhelming house vote indicated that the senate would agree to the minor amendments and send the bill to Governor Horner for approval.

The bill is in virtually the same form as when it was introduced, attempts to amend it also having been beaten down in the senate.

The code still contains the Lloyd's section, requiring that the London concern meet the same requirements as domestic companies.

METHODS TO CUT GOLD IMPORTS BEING SOUGHT

Closing Tax Loopholes Expected To Solve Vexing Problem

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—Government monetary experts said today administration recommendations for closing tax loopholes may help solve the vexing problem of heavy gold imports.

President Roosevelt included in his tax message, to Congress a suggestion from Secretary Morgenthau that the tax rate be raised on income flowing from this country to wealthy non-resident aliens.

This tax against dividends, interest and similar income from the United States now is a flat 10 per cent. Officials said if it is increased on income to upper-bracket foreigners, the latter may have less desire to make investments here.

This would tend to retard the gold influx, because gold imports represent a movement of foreign capital here, largely for investment.

Some officials expressed the view that the comparatively low tax of 10 per cent has been a major inducement to investments here. Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board has said it is not fair for foreigners to ship capital to the United States, participate in American recovery and pay lower taxes than citizens of this country.

The gold imports have aggregated more than $4,500,000,000 in the last three and a half years, and since January 1 have averaged $5,000,000 a day. Stocks now total $11,983,000,000, a new record high and half the world's visible supply.

Generous Rains Benefited Crops

Washington, June 2.—(AP)—Government crop experts reported today recent weather had been "outstandingly favorable to agriculture" with generous rains "over a large area of the west where drought has persisted."

The weather bureau's weekly survey of crop conditions said "rainfall was heaviest where moisture was most needed and the general outlook in the western dry belt has immeasurably improved."

Much sunshine and abnormally warm weather aided crops almost everywhere, the bureau said, and brightened prospects in the corn, wheat, and cotton belts.

Crossing of Breeds Fails to Increase Milk Production

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—H. H. Yapp, cattle breeding expert at the University of Illinois, told 300 dairymen in convention here that tests over a 45 weeks' period showed crossing of Holstein and Guernsey breeds failed to increase the yield of either milk or butterfat.

Addressing the opening session of the 52nd annual convention of the Holstein Friesian Association of America yesterday, Yapp said the Holsteins used in the university's first cross produced milk averaging 3.317 per cent butterfat, while the Guernseys averaged 3.054.

He stated that 47 animals used in the first cross produced offspring that gave milk with an average of 4.322 percent butterfat, ranging from 3.761 to 5.167. They averaged about midway between the two parents. The 38 hybrids' butterfat average was .370.

The 47 heads produced an average of 7,245.6 pounds of milk containing 313.1 pounds of butterfat, while 38 hybrids of the second cross averaged 6,883 pounds of milk containing 300.8 pounds of butterfat.

Dr. C. G. Buford, Elizabeth, Ill., president of the association, welcomed the delegates, representing 44 states.

Consolidation of the organization's two offices, one at Brattleboro, Vt., and the other at Madison, Wis., was recommended by a special committee headed by A. B. Craig, director from Pittsburgh, Pa.

GOVERNMENT BY OLIGARCHY

Quoting Governor Roosevelt or Roosevelt, the nominee, as against President Roosevelt has been done so often that there is no novelty about it. Duplicity is accepted as a matter of course by his supporters, rather than the scourge it usually is.

Notwithstanding this, Senator Carter Glass, in his address upon the proposal that the president be permitted to pack the supreme court to do his will, quoted Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as follows:

"To bring about government by oligarchy—masquerading as democracy—it is fundamentally essential that all authority and control be centralized in our national government. We are safe from the danger of any such departure from the principles on which this country was founded just so long as the individual home rule of the states is scrupulously preserved and fought for whenever they seem in danger."

There have been masterly discourses by statesmen on the question at issue, discourses that have gone over the heads of the mass of persons who never have enlightened themselves about their government so far as to read the constitution under which they live. These learned discussions would be for naught, except for the large number of persons who have a traditional respect for the supreme court of the United States. It is that respect ingrained in a nation that has enabled the democratic leaders of opposition to the president's proposal to assemble such a following, just after the president had demonstrated in the election a tremendous popularity, either based upon personality or a nation's purse.

Whereas, the mass of people may not be in a mood to digest long discourses based upon the science of the republican form of government, they may find some light in excerpts, and we give herewith the comment by Senator Glass upon this utterance by the governor of New York. Glass said:

"That was Franklin D. Roosevelt in March, 1930. When before, may I venture to ask, in the history of the country has this nation more nearly approached the situation thus deplored? With federal regulatory bodies in every community of the state, and federal bureaus in Washington bursting the bounds of marble palaces and overflowing into business houses and private homes, and with the states required supinely to submit their legislative statutes to the approval of bureaucratic boards here before they can get back a pitance of the prodigious sums picked from the pockets of their people in the form of taxes, state rights, as well as the security and independence of enterprise, are fast disappearing.

"With private property seized at will; the courts openly reviled; rebellion rampant against good order and peace of communities; with governments pleading with mobocracy instead of mastering it, we seem to have reached that period of peril which Governor Roosevelt visioned seven years ago.

"This, with other dangerous evils, contrived or connived at by governments in the real crisis which faces the nation and can not be cured by degrading the supreme court of the United States."

The quotations from Governor Roosevelt and the comment by Senator Glass may be read more than once with profit.

CLOTHES AND THE SOLDIER

Do soldiers' uniforms have any effect upon enlistments?

Alfred Duff Cooper, British war minister, looked about for reasons for diminishing enlistments in the army and concluded that perhaps the uniform had something to do with it.

Does blue give a soldier an appearance that khaki does not? The war minister suspects that there's a difference. Whether or not that makes any difference in the number of enlistments is problematical, but he has direct evidence that blue is preferred, because "some now have purchased blue uniforms for themselves and have been allowed to wear them while walking out."

Individual preference is so varied and variable that there is some risk involved in comparisons. However, there remains the fact that long after the khaki uniform had been adopted in the United States for practical purposes, which are purpose of the field, the blue uniform was retained for dress parade. By the time the call came for the World War, everything had to give way to that which was practical from a military standpoint, and the land fighters were fitted out in olive drab, which is less of a conspicuous mark for bullets.

THE WORD AND THE BOND

"Will the administration's bonds become only as good as its word?" is an inquiry in Forbes' magazine. At what other time in the history of the United States would such an utterance have made sense?

The sharp paragraph is intended to be a play on the time worn description of integrity—that a man's word is as good as his bond. Now the question becomes pertinent as to whether an administration's bonds will become only as good as its word, and what tragedy lies in that word, only!

TOWARD DEMOCRACY

When the spring elections in Belgium dealt a crushing blow to the ambitions of that country's Fascist party, it began to look as if the swing toward dictatorship might be subsiding in Europe. Further evidence to the same effect is now provided by the elections in Holland. In Holland the voters gave a strong endorsement to the "middle of the road" policies of Premier Hendrikus Colijn. The Dutch Nazi party, which had expected to win at least 10 seats in parliament, apparently gets no more than four. The Dutch Communists suffered a similar setback and evidently must forfeit several of the seats they now hold.

For a time it looked as if the swing toward dictatorship would be irresistible. The democracies have got their second wind, however, and the old standards of freedom and liberty are advancing once more.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. JAGO GALDSTON

Moral Imbecility

The problem of moral imbecility is intimately related to the larger problem of crime.

Both fall within the province of medicine, for the law largely judges the culpability of the criminal on the basis of his knowledge or appreciation of the criminal nature of his act, and for such evaluation of the criminal the law must turn to the medical man, notably the psychiatrist.

In one sense, all criminals are abnormal, but not all are sick in the psychiatric sense. One group—the moral imbeciles—is distinctly so. Perhaps "defectives" is a better term for this group, for the moral imbecile is sick because his moral sense is defective beyond all remedy.

In many forms of mental illness there occurs a disintegration of the personality and a loss in moral sense. The moral imbecile, however, hasn't lost his moral sense; he had none to start with.

Fifty years ago, Dr. Isaac N. Kerlin of Elwyn, Pa., described moral imbecility and compared it to other forms of congenital defectiveness:

"There are persons in whom we discover a partial or entire absence of color perception, or of the musical perception, and others who are partially or entirely destitute of the power of numbers, of distance, of direction, or of any other special faculty—nor can the absence be supplied by education. So we have individuals who, from some inherent fault in, or some radical defect of, the receptive centers, are destitute in part and sometimes wholly, of the so-called moral sense, and no environment and no education will supply the deficiency."

In a more recent work on criminal responsibility, moral imbecility is defined as an "original defect of character displayed from an early age, and consists in inability to be deterred by punishment, however severe, certain and prompt, from wrongful acts."

By strict definition the moral imbecile is not insane. He knows the quality of his act, but his knowledge does not carry over into moral inhibition. Can such an individual be held responsible for his acts? Psychiatrists hold he cannot, at least not morally responsible.

But then, of course, psychiatrists as all others, recognize the right of and the necessity for the people to protect themselves against "abnormal" individuals of every sort and variety.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Every day you see a bunch of men freezing or stewing or getting soaking wet in the rain waiting for a woman to get into a car. By this time the traffic lights have closed and one of the men has missed his train. They all finally jump aboard, swearing—righteously—and hand their fare instantly to the driver—only to see the same thing happen again at the next stop.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. The wind does not drive down the thermometer on either a cold or hot day. It seems colder simply because the wind causes more rapid evaporation from the skin.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. As a matter of fact Mr. Cobb did not knock this notion into a cocked hat or anything else. He said—paraphrased—People are born with the instinct or aptitude for writing. Some people learn easier than others. Some must work hard to produce. . . Others never learn and give up in disgust. In any case they have to develop their talent by many tedious hours of practice. Certainly—this is a very fair view of the heredity-environment complex. If you look at it one way, writers are born, not made in any other way they are made, not born.

Plans are about completed for the second annual community school picnic which is being sponsored by the P. T. A. association. The picnic will be held at the school grounds Friday, June 4. Those who attended last year will be there this year, those of you who were unable to be present last year try very hard this year to be there. This

Come on, let's go to the picnic.

A Good Reception
About one hundred members and friends of the Presbyterian church gathered at the church Thursday evening to extend a hearty welcome to the new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Louis Grafton. Henry A. Dierdorff, clerk of the session presided. Greetings and short talks were given by Frank Senger, who represented the board of trustees, Mrs. W. L. Paul Studebaker pastor of the Church of the Brethren extended greetings from his church. Mrs. Will Black and Mrs. George Elmert rendered a piano and organ duet. An orchestra in charge of Miss Lyford played several numbers. Both Rev. and Mrs. Grafton expressed real pleasure at having been chosen as pastor of this church. After the program a social hour followed after which they were all invited to the dining room where refreshments were served.

Baccalaureate Services
At the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening the Franklin Grove community high school Baccalaureate services were held to do honor to the fifteen young people who will graduate from the high school.

The processional was played by Mrs. Henry Wendel and Miss Barbara Kohl.
Rev. Paul Studebaker, pastor of the Brethren church offered the invocation, which was followed by the congregation singing a hymn. Rev. Louis Grafton, pastor of the Presbyterian church read the Scripture lesson.

Miss Elizabeth Chronister, a member of the high school sang a solo, "Evan Kinsley." The Brethren choir rendered an anthem "The Cherubim Song." The sermon was delivered by Rev. L. E. Winter of the Methodist church, using for his subject, "Getting By and Getting There." The Rev. Winter did himself proud and left some very excellent thought for not only the senior class but for every member of his audience. Miss June Hatch, also a high school pupil, rendered a vocal solo, "The Rosary." Mrs. Kinsley accompanied. The closing prayer was given by Rev. Paul Studebaker, the benediction: "The Lord Bless Us and Keep Us."

Emmert Cemetery
The Aultenberg Post American Legion assisted in the Memorial services at the Emmert cemetery Sunday afternoon. Co. Supt. L. W. Miller of Dixon was the speaker of the afternoon. He gave a splendid address. The attendance was very large and the cemetery never looked nicer than it did Sunday with the many clusters of flowers on the graves, of not only the soldiers but of loved ones.

Memorial Day
The weather was ideal for Memorial day, perhaps a little too warm, but far better than rain. Early in the morning found people at the cemetery with loads and loads of flowers for the graves of their loved ones. The cemetery presented a very beautiful sight with the many colors of flowers, especially the bright red peonies scattered throughout the cemetery. At 1 o'clock the band and American Legion gathered on main street and proceeded to the Presbyterian church where the line of march was formed to march to the cemetery.

Altenberg Post American Legion headed the line of which was followed by an automobile driven by Fred Kipler, a wounded soldier of the World War, in his car was G. W. Long, our only surviving Civil War Veteran, the speaker of the day Rev. W. K. Abel and Rev. Grafton. Following the cars were the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and the Franklin Grove band which was followed by the children with their leaders, eighty squads in all. This line of march is always a most beautiful sight. The children and their leaders dress in the bright summer colors each leader carrying a wreath and each child a cluster of flowers to be used to decorate the grave of some soldier.

The services at the cemetery of graves at the firing of volley by firing squad. There were eight soldiers graves to be decorated this year. While the band was playing all the children, their leaders and soldiers assembled around the Cenotaph where further services were held, the firing the salute and taps closed the impressive services at the cemetery. The line of march was again formed and marched to the camp ground where the band rendered a selection after which Rev. Grafton offered a prayer. David Studebaker rendered a vocal solo and Miss June Miller a reading which was especially good. The Girls' glee club from the high school sang several favored with an instrumental duet. Rev. W. J. Abel of Morrison, a former Methodist preacher at this place gave the address of the afternoon. The band played Star Spangled Banner after which the Memorial day services for 1937 closed with the benediction by Rev. Grafton.

Class Play
The senior class play was given on the camp grounds to a very large audience Friday evening. Each one taking their part with much credit to themselves and their instructor Miss Frances Clifford. A home talent play is always well received here and when a senior class puts a play on they are always sure of a large crowd.

Noted Speaker for Commencement
The school and the community are very fortunate this year to obtain a nationally known educator for their commencement program. Dr. Hulsey Cason is well known as a master of several fields of science, a research professor, and a great writer and teacher of psychology. Those who have heard his interesting lectures claim him to be one of the University of Wisconsin's five most able speakers. His subject will be titled the "Alterability of Human Abilities." Dr. Cason's talk should convince both the student and the adult how it is possible for any normal person to adjust his own abilities to meet the varied changes in occupations and skills that rapidly changing economic conditions now demand.

Faculty Announced
The Community school board has contracted with all the present faculty for the coming fall term.

The subjects and faculty are listed below:

Neil R. Fox, Supt., Industrial Arts and Science.

Blanche Lyford, Principal, Mathematics and Commercial.

Frances Clifford, English and Dramatics.

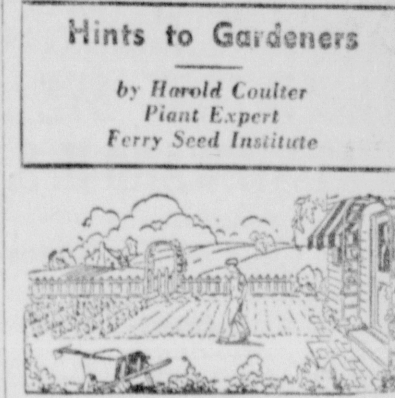

Evan Kinsley, Social Science and Latin.

Mary Cram, Home Economics and Science.

Mrs. Clute, Vocal Music.

Care in Planting

PLANTING and the immediate preliminaries to planting demand care as the first step toward a successful garden.

Though soil may be rich, a gardener will have indifferent success if he does not prepare it thoroughly. The ground should be worked deeply and the top three or four inches should be made as fine and loose as possible. And the best time to whip the weed enemy is while the soil is being prepared, using rake and hoe.

A primary consideration in planting is to have the soil favorably moist, that is, damp but not wet. If circumstances demand that you plant when the ground is dry, loosen trenches or drills before dropping the seed, using enough water to wet the soil, but not enough to cause caking.

To retain moisture after planting, cover seeds with fine earth and press down firmly. In small gardens, the firming may be done by laying a board over the row and walking on it. Some have found it a back-saving practice to cover medium-sized seed by drawing a broom over the top of the rows, pulling the dirt onto the seed.

Consider temperature at the time of planting. Too high a temperature is often as detrimental to seed germination as one too low. Generally, a temperature between 65 and 75 degrees is most favorable.

Depth of planting is important and it varies, of course, with different seeds. Generally, seeds approximately the size of turnip seed should be covered not more than half an inch. Larger seeds, such as peas, beans and corn may be planted one to two and one-half inches deep.

Soil must be loose so that stems of seedlings can push through and roots will be able to find plant food. Fine seed must not be planted when the ground is wet. Where a heavy crust does form, however, it may sometimes be broken sufficiently to let seedlings through by gently pricking the soil with a rake.

There are times when weather conditions render it impossible for seedlings to survive. In such cases, replanting is the only recourse.

COMMENCEMENT HELD LAST EVE AT STEWARD H. S.

Large Class of Graduates
Received Honors: Fine
Program

One of the largest classes of graduates of the Steward community high school in several years graduated last evening. The high school auditorium in which the program was held, accommodated one of the largest crowds since the completion of the valued addition to the high school property. Dr. Paul R. Neureiter, professor of science at the University of Wisconsin, was the principal speaker of the evening. Being a native of Vienna, Austria, where he was born and reared, receiving his education in institutions of that place, he was well qualified to present the subject of his choosing, "An American by Choice."

His talk was not of the solemn type usually heard at commencement exercises, but was interspersed with recitations of amusing incidents with which he was confronted when he chose America as being the land of opportunity and came to this country. Commencement exercises, he stated in his opening, were not a new ceremony as many supposed, but was traceable to the time of tribal customs. He cited the importance of this event in the South Sea Islands where young people endure both hardship and suffering to prove their ability to enter adult life. The advantages and opportunities confronting the average present day high school graduate in the United States are unknown to the islanders, Professor Neureiter stated. To one whom has observed, from Europe, the advantages of America, comes the realization of these wonderful advantages and opportunities, where America is looked upon as being a land of opportunity and its people, a rugged population.

Read Cooper
The speaker amusingly referred to his first impressions of America when he read J. Fenimore Cooper's book of Indian tales. Later he began to realize the advantages for opportunity and development in America. Referring to the daily life presented to the average high school student, the speaker called attention to the glorification of militarism and of war throughout the European countries over a period of years, which is not in evidence in America. He expressed hope that the members of the Steward graduating class might never taste the bitter cup of war as is the early fate of graduates of European schools.

America, Professor Neureiter said, presented to him these outstanding possibilities, all of which are outstanding in developing a fine citizenry and good government: Courage, self reliance, opportunity, ingenuity, free choice and broad social ideals.

He cited statistics showing the large amount being expended each year for education in the United States, then referred to the European nations who are expending far greater sums in preparation for war instead of being interested in the education of their young people. Students leaving schools in many of the European countries are forced into military education without being given an opportunity to choose a future course. Tremendous limitations are placed on the choices of students in these countries.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN
WHERE ART AND DRAMA MEET

No offices, no stores or other forms of business mar the beauty of the $2,000,000 National Theater that is the pride of Costa Rica. Built nearly 40 years ago, this magnificent building in San Jose, capital of the Central American republic, is considered one of the finest in the world.

A hard, white, marble-like stone, native to Costa Rica, covers the outside of the theater, but the walls and pillars inside are of Italian marbles, while the immense frescoes and canvases on the walls and ceilings were painted by Italian and French artists.

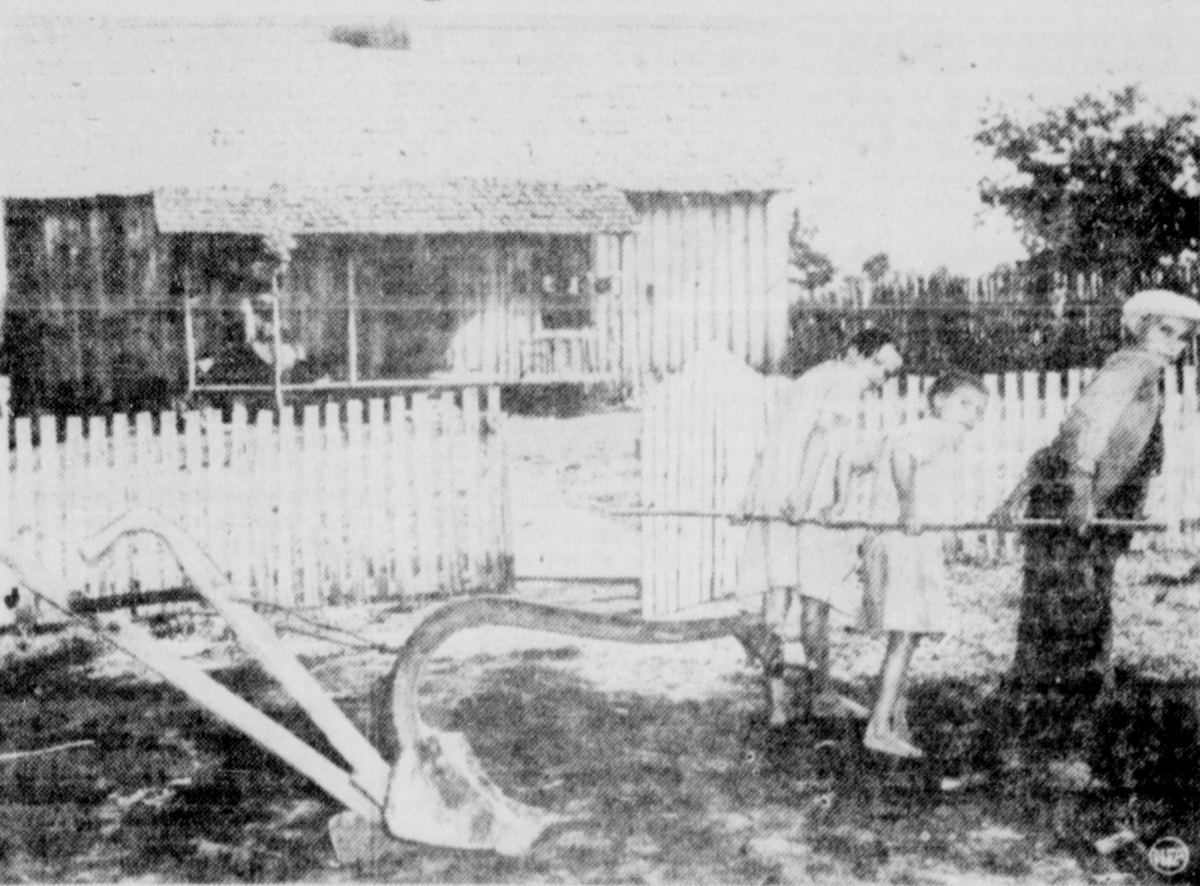

Besides being the center of dramatic and operatic performances, the theater is used for the inaugural balls and other grand social functions of the government. All activities are under government auspices, since the theater, like those in other Latin American countries, is owned and operated by the government.

Low Murder-Charged Farmer Made Wife Pull Plow

"Sure, paw hitched maw and me up to a plow. He done hit all the time," 14-year-old Charlie Hensley told investigators, and then demonstrated, with his two sisters, how their stepfather got the work done on his Blue Wing Community, Tenn., farm. Their stepfather, John Davis, 65, is under a charge of murder in the death of his wife, who, police allege, died from an illegal operation after dragging the heavy plow all day. "When we got hot and tired," said Charlie, "paw always told us to keep going and he'd spell us in a minute. But he never did. He just steered." The girls are Manne, 8, center, and Evelyn, 11.

dous limitations are placed on the choices of students in these countries.

More Self-Restraint

In his concluding remarks, he stressed the fact that from his observations, life in America requires more self-restraint, a greater responsibility and the regulation of life in general than in Europe, because of the free choice presented in the United States, while in the foreign countries, the government performs the thinking function for its peoples, which results when they fail to think for themselves.

"We will either discipline ourselves and provide for discipline from within or others will do it for us, and only by disciplining ourselves can this American form of government which is envied by every European country, endure," Professor Neureiter said in closing his most interesting address.

Prof. J. M. Thompson, principal of the school, presented the diplomas to the large class of graduates as follows: Earl Arne, Howard Benson, Ardell Chambers, Florence Daum, Paul Detig, Frances Espe, Irma Kirby, Margaret Klenke, Marjorie Klenke, Ruth Louise Ravnaas, Elizabeth Stein, Wayne Stein, Wanda Totten, Kenneth Whitsett, Lillian Wickness and Dorothy Brett.

The program opened with the high school orchestra playing Bizet's Fantastique, as the graduating class, clad in the gowns and mortar boards marched to the stage, followed by the members of the faculty and the board of education. Rev. W. B. Tarr pronounced the invocation after which the orchestra favored with two numbers, "Shepherd's Evening Call," by Zamenick, and "Garden of Roses," by Ritter. Then followed the address of the evening by Professor Neureiter, who was presented by Coach Edward M. Lemon, a former student of the speaker. The girls' glee club favored with two selections, "Nightfall," by Liszt, and "When Twilight Weaves," by Beethoven. Rev. Mr. Tarr pronounced the benediction.

RELIEF BILL FACES MAJOR SENATE FIGHT

Passes House After Much Argument On Appropriation

Washington, June 2—(AP)—The administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill, winning midnight House approval after a compromise quashed a persistent revolt, went to the Senate today for another major battle.

Economy advocates in that chamber said they would renew demands to cut the fund by one-third. A House bloc lost a similar attempt before the final 323 to 44 vote by which the bill passed.

There were prospects, too, some senators would try to reinstate amendments to earmark one-third of the total for roads, dams and other special projects. These won tentative House approval last week over the objections of administration leaders.

After weekend conferences, however, the President's lieutenants agreed on modifications, which were accepted last night by tired and hungry members who had been in session since noon.

Six roll calls, each requiring 35 minutes, prevented most members from leaving the chamber for dinner.

Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex.), had argued that tying of the President's hands by the earmarking amendments would force dismissal of more than 630,000 workers from work progress rolls.

The administration contended the earmarking proposals would take extra money for materials and reduce the amount available for wages.

House members described the compromise as including:

1. An administration promise that probably much more than the $45,000,000 tentatively earmarked would be spent for flood control.

2. An agreement to revoke an all-relief-labor order which had held up use of $131,000,000 now in the public works administration's revolving fund for loans and grants to cities. This would mean completion of a large number of projects for which cities already have voted bond issues.

3. A promise to make relief funds available for building ponds and lakes to raise the water level of the southwest "dust bowl."

Although the administration had offered to supply relief labor for construction of "farm-to-market" roads, Chairman Cawthart (D-Okla.) of the House roads committee, held out for setting aside $150,000,000 for road construction under contracts let by state highway departments.

His amendment, once tentatively approved, was rejected last night, 207 to 167.

After the principal controversy was settled by rejection of the earmarking proposals, the House acted swiftly on a number of other proposed amendments.

The salary of Harry L. Hopkins as works progress administrator, from which $2,000 had been tentatively cut, was restored to the present $12,000 a year by a vote of 272 to 96.

Republicans, led by Rep. Bacon (R-N.Y.), urged that relief be turned back to the states, with federal grants of money to them, but that was rejected, 206 to 78.

Amendments were adopted giving first preference on relief jobs to citizens and aliens with "first papers," and barring agricultural workers from relief while part-time private jobs are available to them.

Senate Starts Work
A Senate subcommittee, some members of which favor cutting $500,000 from the relief fund, decided to start work immediately on the measure. It must be signed by the President before July 1 unless relief payments are to lapse.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.), asked an investigation of the entire relief problem, with a view to fixing a permanent program.

Blocked in his proposal for such an inquiry by a group of citizens to be appointed by the President, he obtained promise of consideration for a Senate-conducted study.

Against the demands of an economy bloc for cutting the relief fund stood the declaration of Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis.), that $1,500,000,000 was "inadequate."

He said he might have to fight to save the amount the President recommended, however, and would await developments before demanding an increase.

Film Strike

Fight Between Rival Unions Flaring to New Crisis Today

Hollywood, June 2—(AP)—The bitter fight between two rival unions for control of studio craftsmen in the multi-million dollar film industry flared into a new crisis today.

The Federated Motion Picture Crafts, which started a strike a month ago, repudiated a settlement announced by its rival, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, which would have meant collapse of the walkout. The non-striking I. A. T. S. E. has been accused of being a company union by the federation.

Striking painters overrode their union officers and joined in voting, 60 to 276, with other units of the federation to continue the walkout until granted written guarantee of closed shop and wage increases. The painters create the huge stage sets for the movies.

Night Long Meeting
The ballot culminated a nearly night-long meeting at the Legion boxing stadium. There Joseph Clark, international vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators, was booed from the speakers' stand by angry unionists. Clark had sat in on conferences with I. A. T. S. E. and the producers.

The painters, makeup artists, hairdressers and draftsmen, comprising the large majority of the 1,100 craftsmen in the strike, had been expected to return to work today.

Under terms announced yesterday by George E. Browne, international president of the I. A. T. S. E., these chief units of the federated crafts were to receive a 10 per cent salary boost and I. A. T. S. E. shop. The settlement would have deprived the F. M. P. C. of all but a handful of members.

Browne, informed of the repudiation, reiterated that the I. A. T. S. E. would not permit F. M. P. C. leaders to "dictate" peace terms.

CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

Many world leaders of today are anxious about the future of the home. Will divorce increase, breaking home and making homeless orphans? Will the sacred, holy matrimony become a laughing stock to be sneered at by the masses? Will trial marriage become more popular, leaving the home void of the sacred love and home ties which have given the home strength and endurance in the past. The stability of the home is in the balance today, and the sacred vows of the marriage relationship are considered lightly by many. Many Christian leaders with others are deeply concerned in keeping the home fires burning, where boys and girls may grow into strong characters for God and country. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Rev. William E. Thompson will speak on the subject of "The Future Home" and many important features in building a good home will be considered. Everyone will enjoy this service.

The "Possibilities of the Church" is another vital question and church people and others are concerned about today. The evening service at 7:30 will present a splendid service in which such questions as: What does the business man think of the church, is the laboring man interested in the church, does the average home care for the church, why do folks attend church, why do some ignore the church. These timely questions will be discussed by able speakers in a round table. The pastor will give a rousing sermon on the subject of "How Build a New Church." Critics, saints, young and old are invited to attend.

Louis, Braddock Socking Sparring Partners Again

Chicago, June 2—(AP)—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, and his challenger Joe Louis, went back to socking sparring partners today.

Each warrior took time out from boxing yesterday in preparing for their 15-round battle at Comiskey park June 22. But plans for today listed resumption of heavy firing.

Louis was to have put himself on display today for the Illinois State Athletic Commission. The demonstration was postponed until next Tuesday, however, when Chairman Joe Triner was called away from Chicago on business. The Brown Bomber's schedule called for six rounds of work on his suffering sparring partners, and eight rounds of bag-punching, shadow boxing and rope-skipping.

Braddock faced four miles of road work and four, or possibly six rounds of boxing.

NATION'S BREAD BASKET BEGINS HOPPER BATTLE

Tons of Poison Bait Be- ing Spread in the Middlewest

Des Moines, Ia., June 2—(AP)—Throughout much of the nation's "bread basket" farmers organized today to counter attack the threat of literally billions of hatching grasshoppers, whose ravenous appetites for growing grains and lush forage are well known.

Farmers realize a dead "hopper" isn't a potential injurer or destroyer of their alfalfa, clover, corn, grasses, oats and other crops.

That's the reason state and federal entomologists now are working with county agricultural agents and farmers. They're taking advantage of the pests' appetites to poison them.

The federal government is furnishing, free of charge, sodium arsenite, a poison, and mill run feed.

The states are providing sawdust.

Distribution

These materials are shipped to county mixing stations where the poison bait is prepared and distributed under the supervision of county agents and county grasshopper control committees to farmers.

Farmers then spread the bait in the hatching areas at the rate of about 20 pounds per acre.

P. N. Annand of Washington, D. C., in charge of cereal and forage insect investigations, reported "hatching is general over the entire area."

He said materials for bait now are moving into most of the infested areas where hatching is abundant, with excessive shipments into Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Iowa.

"There is no crop damage to amount to anything yet, although we have reports of damage to Oklahoma cotton and Nebraska small grains," Annand stated.

ARMY WORMS APPEAR

Mt. Carmel, Ill., June 2—(AP)—Farm adviser H. H. Lett warned farmers today that army worms had appeared in Wabash county and threatened heavy damage to crops. He planned to call a meeting to discuss means of fighting the pests.

Effort to Extend Life of IERC On

Springfield, Ill., June 2—(AP)—The first move to abandon the new centralized relief program came today with introduction of a bill by Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrat, to extend the life of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission two years until July 1, 1939.

Ward's bill would be a substitute for the Adamowski house series to place relief and pensions under the department of public welfare. County officers oppose the Adamowski series.

Since the IERC's authority ends at the end of June, its life must be extended unless a new relief program is adopted.

TO RETURN HOME

Oakland, Calif.—(AP)—James Madigan, 19, nephew of Coach Edward Madigan of St. Mary's college, has recovered sufficiently from a stomach ailment to return to his home at Ottawa, Ill. He underwent blood transfusions and for a time his condition was critical.

SEILS-STERLING CIRCUS BOASTS BIG MENAGERIE

Seils-Sterling 4-Ring Circus this season has augmented the menagerie of its organization, by the addition of several dens, corrals and enclosures of imported rare species of animal-land.

A den of Royal Bengal Tigers, costing a fabulous sum of money. Just a specimen of the rarest of animals whose perfectly classified numbers amply repay whole hours spent in a most interesting and educational study of the earth's finest zoological displays, when this circus comes to Dixon, Tuesday, June 22 for afternoon and night performances.

Seils-Sterling 4-Ring Circus is presenting for this season on the greatest thriller of all time, "The Plunge of Death," a most daring and graceful achievement of the "Donzelle Sensation," in their first American appearance. The greatest feature ever presented with this or any other circus, and can be seen only with this all-feature circus.

Wing collars and wide, black bow ties should be worn with tuxedos.

OLD MAN PAR IS MAULED BY OPEN GOLFERS

Qualifying Field Whittled Down For Tourney

New York, June 2.—(AP)—Old Man Par took one of the worst beatings in his career, but he managed to whittle an entry list of 140 golfers—an all-time record for the United States open championship—down to a field of 170 which will start play a week from tomorrow at the Oakland Hills club, Birmingham, Mich.

Topping the par-shattering feats yesterday in 30 district qualifying tests were 36-hole counts of 136 recorded by Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. V., the winter-tournament sensation, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Stuttgart, Ark., and a single round of 64 by Orville White, champion Tony Manero's successor as pro at the Sedgefield club, Greenboro, N. C.

Previously 39 names had been listed as starters, 31 by exemption for finishing among the low 30 and ties at Baltusrol last year and eight in sectional tests at Los Angeles and Tacoma May 17. Another exempt player, Dick Metz, was forced to withdraw because of injuries in an automobile accident and a 16th qualifying place was granted to the Chicago district.

Snead Cards 65
Snead, heading five aspirants for places on the Ryder Cup team yesterday, carded a sensational round Harrison shot 69-67 to share the of 65 after an opening 71 while qualifying lead. White, with 74-64—138 was close behind. Three of the Ryder Cup candidates had 140's for their 36-hole tests. Craig Wood at New York and Byron Nelson and Ed Dudley at Philadelphia, while Jimmy Hines shot 146. Two former open champions, Sam Parks, Jr., and Willie MacFarlane, passed the tests with flying colors while the veterans, Chick Evans and Freddie McLeod, 1908 winner, failed. Parks shared the Pittsburgh district lead with Lloyd Mangrum, shooting 147 while MacFarlane had 149 at New York. Evans wound up with 153 and McLeod with 162.

Other prominent players who failed to qualify included Leo Diegel; Sammy Byrd, the former ball player; Reynolds Smith, Al and Abe Espinosa, Johnny Lehman, Gene Kunes, Charley Yates, Roland MacKenzie, Sam Perry, Lester Bolstad, Joe Turnesa, and Mike Brady, once Oakland Hills pro.

Topping the amateur qualifiers was Crawford Rainwater, 21-year-old Emory University star, who put together a pair of 70's to cop the open place available at Atlanta.

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, June 2.—(AP)—That gent you see taking bows out in Cleveland is Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees. He predicted before the 1936 world's series that "Hubbell ain't invisible". You were right, Joe—he ain't. They are sitting pretty out at South Dakota State where 33 of the 36 members of last year's football squad will be back on the job. What's become of Tommy Bridges last one? . . . Ralph Guldahl was the first pro big shot to tune up at Oakland Hills for next week's U. S. open.

Says Madison Square Garden's publicity department: "Betting on the box shows that Braddock is the favorite, but there is plenty of Schmeling money in evidence". . . . How? . . . Mickey Cochrane has received 500 telegrams and averaged 250 letters per day since he was beaten a week ago yesterday. . . . Seventeen states and one Canadian province are represented in the "were all pulling for you" messages. The Dodgers always were poison for Carl Hubbell. Incidentally the Brooks have picked up a good looking young catcher in this Paul Chervinko from Columbus.

The boys down at Washington swear this one is true: Jack Elder, the former Notre Dame football and track star, now is doing some work for the Catholic Youth organization. He was in Washington the other day and someone took him down to A. F. of L. headquarters for a courtesy call. . . . Jack's escort introduced him as "Jack Elder of the C. Y. O.". . . The A. F. of L. reception committee thought the guy said "C. I. O." and Jack had to get his hands up right quick.

The Browns have grabbed Albert Coxon, 17-year-old strikeout king

MIDDAY SUN IS EPSOM DOWNS TURF WINNER

Epsom Downs, June 2.—(AP)—Midday Sun, an outsider, owned by Mrs. G. B. Miller, today won the 158th Derby before a crowd of between 250,000 and 500,000, including the King and Queen. Mrs. F. Nagle's Sandspite was second and the Aga Khan's Le Grand Duc third.

Ridden by Mike Beary, veteran English jockey, Midday Sun finished the one and a half miles in front of Sandspite, a rank outsider. Le Grand Duc was one and a half lengths back.

William Woodward's Perifox, only American-bred horse in the race and the last minute favorite, was fourth in the field of 20 colts and one filly.

The American-bred son of Gallant Fox just managed to beat Marcel Boyssac's Goya 2nd out of fourth money.

In winning the purse of about $50,000, Midday Sun ran the distance in the comparatively slow time of 2:37 3-5.

Mrs. Miller was the first woman owner to win the England's most famous flat race. Her colt went to the post at the odds of 100 to 7.

Sandspite, given practically no chance in the wagering was quoted at the long odds of 100 to 1.

Le Grand Duc was held at 100 to 9. Lord Astor's bad luck in the classic still held as his highly regarded Cash Book finished among the also rans. In contrast the Aga Khan's luck ran true to form. The Indian potentate has won three of the last eight Derbies with his Mahmoud and Taj Akbar ran one, two last year.

Nine Americans who held Irish sweepstakes tickets on Midday Sun, Epsom Downs Derby winner, today won $150,000 each.

The winners: "Bonnie Mio", Jersey City, N. J. Frank Feinbert, Farmville, Va. "We Will Meet Again", P. Ryan, the Bronx, N. Y.

George F. Bishop, Baltimore, Md. Bill March, Fort Lyon, Colo. "Mike and Jess", St. Louis.

"Jinks On Me", Brooklyn, N. Y. "Lucky Family", Brooklyn. A. K. Thompson, West Haven, Conn.

Eight Americans on Sand Spite, second place, won $75,000 each. Included was:

John J. Sulshaw, Sturtevant, Wis. Eleven Americans won $50,000 each on Le Grand Duc including: Victor Pagn, Chicago.

WAGNER TO TOUR U. S. IN INTEREST OF SANDLOT BALL

Will Visit Semi-Pro Baseball Tourney; Also Finals

New York, June 2.—(Special)—Despite the fact that the Pittsburgh Pirates perhaps will be in running for the National league flag at the time Honus Wagner, coach, will leave temporarily to add more interest in sandlot baseball throughout the United States. He will visit a number of the state semi-pro tournaments sanctioned by the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, culminating in the national finals at Wichita, Kan., Aug. 13 to 25 for a minimum cash award to the winner of $5,000.

President W. E. (Bill) Benswanger, of the Pittsburgh baseball club, realizes that the immortal Honus is playing an important role in bringing back sandlot baseball all over the country.

"Sandlot baseball needs all the nursing we can give it," said President Benswanger. "The Pittsburgh organization is pleased to co-operate with this national movement which is creating added interest in baseball throughout the country."

Every club in the major leagues, however, is co-operating with the movement. The All-American team from the national finals is composed of one representative from each club in the American and National league.

Will Attend Finals
Ford Frick, president of the National league, plans to attend the opening of the national finals and has appointed Ernest Quigley, supervisor of umpires, to act as umpire-in-chief of the "Little World Series."

The American league is doing its share also to revive interest among the sandlotters. Lew Fonseca, promotional head of the American league, is on the advisory board of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress and last year officially opened the 1936 national finals through the co-operation of William Harbridge of the American league.

"With every one in organized baseball plugging for sandlot baseball, the program of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress is certain to succeed," says the chief of the semi-pros, Honus Wagner. "In the past very few paid any attention to the sandlotters. With professional baseball now aiding in the movement, there will be in the future more interest—more teams and more players."

Wagner's first stop will be at Greensboro, N. C., July 1, where he opens the North Carolina state tournament.

Details of the series of state and national tournaments, Wagner said, may be had through leading sporting goods dealers or by writing Raymond Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, Wichita, Kan.

FAMED SPORTS WRITER DEAD

Heart Ailment Takes Columnist At Age of 62 Years

Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—Harvey T. Woodruff, nationally known sports writer and columnist, died today after a month's illness. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Woodruff was sports editor of the Chicago Tribune for 13 years, retiring in 1921 to conduct his column, "In the Wake of the News". He was 62 years old.

Woodruff, a pioneer Chicago sports writer, began his newspaper career 40 years ago on the Chicago Times Herald after graduating from the University of Chicago.

He was an authority on horse racing and in the early days of the sport was secretary of the Western Jockey club.

Woodruff was born in Brazil, Ind., in 1875. He was married and the father of two daughters.

It was Woodruff who originated the idea of giving an award to the "Big Ten" football player of most value to his team. The first full sized silver football went to "Red" Grange of Illinois in 1924.

Always willing to poke fun at himself, Woodruff's expense account troubles were frequently aired in his column. He also made frequent mention of his difficulties on the golf course.

A chemically cooled 12 cylinder V-type engine of 1000 horsepower is undergoing tests by the army air corps at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

During 1935, Canada exported shingles of wood to the value of $7,692,000.

DIETRICH HAS FIRST NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME

White Sox Proving They're Coming Back Strong

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox haven't won a pennant since 1919, their third place in the American league last season was their high-water mark since 1920, when they finished second.

But the Windy City team today has at least one claim to distinction—on its roster are three of the four active American league pitchers credited with no-hit, no-run games. They are 36-year-old Ted Lyons, who turned the trick in 1926; Vernon Kennedy, who crashed the hurling hall of fame two seasons ago; and Bill Dietrich who joined the lineup yesterday.

The bespectacled, right-handed Dietrich, a Philadelphia and Washington cast-off, claimed in mid-season last year by Dykes, shut out the Browns without a hit in one of yesterday's three big league games, 8-0. He gave two bases on balls and another man reached first on an error.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Sox and lifted them into third place past the idle Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers, who dropped another to the Cleveland Indians, by a 4-3 count.

The roster of pitchers who have chalked up no-hit shutouts is studied with the names of many of the most celebrated hurlers in the game—Chief Bender, Paul Dean, Wes Ferrell, Ed Walsh, "Smoky Joe" Wood, Christy Mathewson, Cy Young, Carl Hubbell, Ed Eiler, Howard Ehmke, Amos Rusie and Charles "Boss" Radbourne, among others.

List Increased
The list has been increased by men who gained only a temporary ranking with the mighty. Some of them, now almost forgotten, are Bob Groom and Ernest Koob, both of the 1917 St. Louis Browns; Bob Burke, of the 1931 Senators, and, believe it or not, Bill Terry, who, just to make the story odder, pitched two no-hitters for Brooklyn back in 1886 and 1888.

In contrast, some of the best pitchers, past and present, have failed to scale this one peak. Outstanding in the group, a large one, are Dizzy Dean, Lefty Grove, Lefty Gomez and Lon Warneke, of the modern crop, and Grover Cleveland Alexander, Rube Marquard, Rube Waddell, Tim Lincecum, Dazzy Vance, Ed Plank, Herb Pennock, Mordecai Brown and Jack Chesbro, stars of seasons gone by.

Dietrich's effort missed being a perfect game—but then, there hasn't been one since C. C. Robertson, also of the White Sox, tamed the Tigers, 2-0, on April 30, 1922. In all major league history there have been only six games in which not a batter reached first.

Dietrich's pitching performance over-shadowed the Indians' sweep of their series with Detroit, accomplished by a four-hit, three-run eight-inning rally, as well as Hal Schumacher's 10-hit defeat of the Dodgers, 5-2, that gave the Giants the odd game in the inter-borough series.

Maroon Racquet Champs To Play In N. I. Tourney
Chicago, June 2.—(AP)—Five members of the University of Chicago's Big Ten championship tennis team will play in the national intercollegiate title tournament at Haverford, Pa., June 21-26. Coach Wally Hebert announced today.

Norman Hebert, Norbert Burgess, William and Chester Murphy and John Shosrom will represent the Maroons in the singles, and Brier and Burgess, runnerup to Ben Seward of Stanford, for the doubles championship last year at Northwestern University, will make another try.

"Burlington Beer

is as smooth and creamy as real German Beer"

...because it's Krausened... Double-Brewed the slow old Deutsches way

Now you can enjoy real German Beer at home! After one bottle of Burlington you'll agree it's a fine new treat. World travelers say it's the equal of the best imported beer they've ever tasted!

Burlington Beer's mellow smoothness and full-bodied flavor come from the way it is made. It's Krausened.

It takes longer to Krausen beer. It must be brewed not once but twice—and given full, natural aging. But this slow old-fashioned Deutsches process makes a world of difference.

Try a bottle of Burlington Beer at your favorite tavern. And be sure to take home one of the handy 6-bottle cartons.

Stays Lively Longer...

Burlington Beer is mellow with its own natural life. Its creamy, sparkling collar doesn't wilt. That's because no artificial carbonation is added to Burlington Beer—no sugars are used to speed fermentation. This old-fashioned, full-bodied beer stays lively longer—doesn't go flat.

Chats About Folks and Farming By the Farm Editor

Strawberry harvest is under way in southern Illinois with the quality of the fruit far above normal. The crop is expected to run about 50 per cent of normal production. Extreme dry weather in recent years prevented growers from establishing the normal acreage of new planting which accounts for the production decrease this year. Prospects for a good crop of peaches in Illinois are favorable, although the condition varies widely in the major peach-growing areas of the state. A prolonged fight against apple scab still continues. Growers who are successful in the fight to prevent scab may expect a fair crop in the opinion of Harry W. Day, director of fruit and vegetable marketing for the Illinois Agricultural association.

A single metal conductor running from the top of the tree down into the ground to a depth of six feet may protect the tree and save cattle seeking shelter under it during an electric storm, advises the IAA safety department. Grounding of fences every 200 feet by driving a galvanized iron post into the ground and attaching a wire to it also is recommended as a means of saving cattle which are stampeded by a storm and run against wire fences.

For the man who feels the call of the outdoors at this season, no better answer can be made than to attend to the early summer pruning of shrubs growing about the yard. Lilacs are listed by Max G. Fuller, extension specialist of the agricultural college, as among plants needing attention during June or early July. With lilacs the main requirement is the removal of development seeds. To assist home landscape gardeners the agricultural college has a mimeographed leaflet, "Pruning Ornamental Shrubs," which is free for the asking. Shade trees that are showing effects of last summer's drought also may need some special care, and the circulars, "Shade Tree Feeding" and "Care of Trees," may be obtained free by writing the Illinois natural history survey at Urbana.

This regional association, recently organized and jointly sponsored by the Illinois Holstein-Friesian association and the University of Illinois, has for its purpose a program to interest the public in the Holstein breed and to create interest among the breeders by giving them an opportunity to compare individuals and families of the breed and acquire proficiency in the improvement of their herds.

At the Dixon show demonstrations will be given to illustrate the value of improved breeding. Judging contests will be held, which will be open to everyone. A picnic dinner is planned at noon. The program for the day is essentially educational and will be enjoyed by everyone who is interested in dairying.

The program is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. and should be completed by 4 p. m.

In addition to several 4-H club entries, Roy Degner, secretary-treasurer of the association, reported today that breeder members will enter a total of 78 animals in the show. The smallest number entered by any breeder to date is two, while several are entering five animals.

9,000 VISITORS WILL TREK TO URBANA IN JUNE

Guests Include Boy and Girl 4-H Club Members

The college of agriculture, University of Illinois, will be the scene of greater activity than usual this month, when the institution will play host to more than 9,000 guests. These will include 4-H club boys and girls, farmers and homemakers, farm advisers, vocational agricultural teachers and others whose work is allied with the college.

Leading the trek to the college will be the 4-H club boys and girls who will be attending their 15th annual university tour, June 8 to 10. The tour has become one of the outstanding events of the year for the 28,000 farm boys and girls of Illinois who as club members are carrying on definite projects in better farming and homemaking practices under the direction of local farm and home advisers and the extension service of the college.

Last year 4,227 farm boys and girls attended the three-day schedule of instruction, recreation and entertainment including music contests, stunt competition and judging demonstrations. About 5,000 are expected to attend this year and a dandy program has been arranged for them.

Teachers to Confer
Overlapping on the time spent at the college by the 4-H groups will be the vocational agricultural teachers, who will meet in annual conference June 10 and 11. Registration at this conference last year totaled 250.

On the heels of the vocational agricultural teachers will be the farm advisers of the state for their annual meeting June 14 to 16. The farm advisers will be going back to school for three days to check up on the latest results of research and experimentation in furtherance of better farming being carried on by the college. Attendance totals for their meeting last year were 96.

In order that mother and father back on the farm may not be out-gone, the agricultural college has set June 21 to 23 as dates for the annual agricultural open house.

Open House Popular
Last year 1,700 Illinois farmers and homemakers from 26 counties attended open house. The tours covered the whole range of experiments the college is carrying on to produce new and superior crops and improved livestock, reduce damage from insects, lower production costs, improve the quality of products to consumer, conserve soil fertility and in general make farming more profitable and farm living more satisfactory.

In addition to the events sponsored by the college, university commencement on June 14 is expected to attract hundreds of visitors. Summer school registration is scheduled for June 21, the American Society of Agricultural Engineers will meet at the college June 21 to 24, and testers of Illinois dairy herd improvement associations are holding their annual conference at the agricultural college this week.

Ogle County Women Hold More Bureau Information Meets

Ogle county women this week are continuing their campaign for the organization of a county Home Bureau with additional informational meetings in various communities at which the work of the bureau is explained. The meeting began May 27 and will continue through June 4.

Tuesday afternoon the women of Mt. Morris township met at the home of Mrs. L. N. Patton and today at 2 p. m. the Maryland township group will meet. On June 3, at 8 p. m. the Lafayette and Pine Rock townships women will gather at the home of Mrs. E. G. Dunne, while on June 4 the Oregon and Rockvale groups will meet at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clara Bradford.

Home Bureau organization plans are being carried out by a committee of representative women from all parts of the county. Mrs. Elsie Rose Butler, home adviser at large for Illinois, has attended several of the community meetings and answered questions pertaining to the advantages of bureau membership.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

There are few persons today who would deny the value of purebred cattle and hogs. But we're just beginning to realize that breeding can make as big a difference in poultry as it does in other livestock.

Probably one reason we weren't much interested in poultry breeding is because, until fairly recently, most of it was done by poultry "fanciers" who were interested principally in feathers.

Lately poultry breeders have been paying more attention to qualities that have a dollars and cents value to the person who is raising poultry for the money there is in chickens and eggs. Those who are sponsoring the National Poultry Improvement Plan are interested in the profitable bird.

They met in Chicago this week to find out how much had been accomplished and how much there is still to do.

Poultrymen in forty-one states are already cooperating voluntarily in this plan to develop poultry which will be more profitable to those of us who are raising chickens—not for feathers, but for poultry meat and eggs.

Judged on Performance

Records are being kept on 130,000 male birds.

They show, through the records of the dams, what you may expect of chicks hatched from a flock with which such cocks are used.

As I understand it, the qualities considered are hatchability, livability, the number, size and shell color of the eggs laid, and the body weight.

In other words, these birds are judged on their performance. That is why birds meeting the standards which have been set up are known as Record-of-Performance (R. O. P.) males and females.

Hatcheries that together will put out fifty million chicks a year are co-operating in this movement and are putting out chicks hatched from flocks of R. O. P. birds. Many other hatcheries are using R. O. P. males to head their hatchery flocks.

You can see how rapidly this is going to improve the quality of the poultry raised in this country.

Introduce Better Stock

The whole thing is sensible. Not every poultry raiser is going to trap-nest his flock and keep all these records. But we can all get the benefit of the breeding work other people are doing by introducing some of this R. O. P. stock into our flocks.

One of the men remarked at the meeting the other day, "We've been too concerned with the price of eggs and the price of feed. We have been overlooking the possibility of increasing our profit by breeding, by producing chicks that are capable of being developed into desirable birds."

It was this same man who said, "On the average farm it is more profitable to produce both poultry and eggs of good quality than to produce either alone!"

LEE 4-H GIRLS PREPARING FOR SUMMER OUTING

First Group Will Enter Camp Near Port Byron June 7

A group of Lee county 4-H club girls have completed plans for their annual camp which opens next Monday, June 7, at Camp Hauberg, two and one-half miles above Port Byron, Illinois, on the Mississippi river. Registration of the girls ended May 22, but the number to attend will depend on physical examinations which the girls must take to qualify for acceptance at the camp.

One group will be in camp from June 7 through to lunch time on July 10, when a second group from this county will go into camp to remain until after breakfast on June 14.

The camp offers modern facilities for all kinds of recreation and swimming and other sports will be enjoyed. Bureau and Whiteside counties also are sending groups of girls to the camp during the same periods.

A staff of home advisers, 4-H club leaders and trained instructors will be in charge of the camp. It is planned to have one counselor for every ten girls.

SCARCITY IDEA OUT IN NEWEST FARM PROPOSAL

Bill Now Before Congress Permits of Abundant Production

The proposed farm adjustment act, which is supported by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, and other farm leaders, is described by Mr. Smith as offering a long-time program to help stabilize American farm prices and farm buying power at parity levels.

The bill as now pending before Congress would operate directly only on five major commodities, cotton, wheat, field corn, tobacco and rice. It provides for abundant production of these crops and the carrying of a substantial reserve in storage at all times. But certain checks and controls would be used when necessary to prevent the accumulation of price-wrecking surpluses, resulting in ruinous farm prices and the undermining of general prosperity.

The new program supplements but does not replace the present soil conservation act. The objectives of the soil conservation plan and prevention of waste soil fertility are embodied in the new program. There would be no payments for diversion of acreage. The bill is not based on scarcity philosophy. The consumer is protected against excessive prices by the surplus reserve provision and further by a clause which would lower the import duty when farm prices go higher than 10 per cent above parity.

The bill provides for a contract between the secretary of agriculture and the farmer for commodity loans up to 85 per cent of the parity price and parity payments only to contract signers, and for storage under seal on each farm's quota in an emergency when supplies greatly outrun market demands.

When the total supply of a major crop exceeds all possible demands plus a reasonable surplus, the secretary of agriculture is directed to secure a reduction of acreage devoted to the crop from contract signers the following year.

Sanitation Best Method to Fight Poultry Disease

Clean houses, clean ranges, clean and properly balanced rations, pure water and proper disposal of sick and dead fowls, as well as the avoidance of overcrowding, are important factors in the control of intestinal parasites in poultry.

Specialists at the state college of agriculture state that in 6800 birds submitted from farm flocks for autopsy examinations at the university diagnostic laboratories 7951 disease conditions were found, of which 344 per cent were attributed to intestinal parasites.

Although medicines may be helpful in the suppression and control of some parasites, reinfestation may occur promptly if treated fowls are permitted to run on infested premises. The best control of intestinal parasites has been obtained according to the poultry specialists, by the owner who has relied exclusively on preventive measures rather than on curative measures.

Poultry owners may obtain a new circular on the subject by writing the college. It is No. 469, "Internal Parasites of Poultry."

Annual Quest for Ideal 4-H Home Girl is Started

For the 15th consecutive year the quest for the ideal 4-H home girl is being conducted through the girls' record contest by club leaders of the nation. Designed to offer recognition to girls with the best all-around records, the contest offers, among other prizes, educational trips to the 16th National Club Congress in Chicago and $1,200 in cash scholarships.

Records are sought which show successful participation in such projects as sewing, cooking, canning, room and home improvement, and in activities which have to do with demonstrations, exhibits and judging contests, and closely allied cultural subjects.

Each state selects one girl from those with the highest county scores to receive an all-expense trip to the Club Congress. Five cash scholarships of $400, $300, $200, $150 and $150 are provided by Montgomery Ward, sponsor of the contest. Gold medals are presented to winners in the counties. No obligation is incurred by the contestants.

DIXON HOMECOMING DANCE AT THE CITY CLUB

R. G. Heck, Engineer, Opens Headquarters in City

The Dixon homecoming committee makes it plain that the program planned for July 5 at Assembly park in Dixon is not designed exclusively for Dixonites and former residents of the city, and announces that residents of the rural districts are invited to take advantage of the occasion to visit friends and relatives in Dixon that day and renew old acquaintanceships.

A dandy program is being shaped up by the various committees and the day and evening will be replete with events of interest to all visitors.

A feature of the morning program is a homecoming parade following the reception of visitors and address of welcome by the mayor. In the afternoon there will be races and other water sports on the river, a baseball game between teams of the Chicago-Dixon club and local boys, horseshoe pitching and a tug-of-war in which all visiting teams may enter.

Band concerts and a fireworks display are planned in the evening.

State Farm School Is on Air Daily

Grasshopper control, next winter's feed supply, marketing problems, 4-H club activities and other farm problems are now being discussed daily by staff members of the Illinois college of agriculture over the University's radio station WILL at 12:30 to 1 p. m. daily except Sunday. Last week's subject gave a hint as to the wide range of subjects covered. The schedule was: Monday, corn performance tests; Tuesday, animal husbandry and poultry problems; Wednesday, some troublesome defects in milk; Thursday, spray and spray equipment; Friday, what is going on in marketing, and Saturday, a 4-H club program. In addition to the daily farm program a homemakers program is broadcast over WILL each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10 to 10:15 a. m. This includes the latest information on better homemaking practices.

KEIGWIN'S HERD LEADS IN LEE- BUREAU GROUP

High Cow in Tests for April is Owned by Arthur Booth

C. B. Keigwin, Jr., with 11 purebred and grade Holsteins topped the Lee-Bureau Dairy Herd Improvement association in April tests, according to Edward Marshall, associate tester. His herd averaged 1,138 pounds of milk and 421 pounds of butterfat, with no cows dry.

Second honors went to Glen Albrecht. His eight purebred Guernseys, with no dry cows, averaged 763 pounds of milk and 38 pounds of fat. In third place was the Short & Johnson herd of 13 purebred Holsteins. With one cow dry this herd averaged 1,036 pounds of milk and 37.5 pounds of fat.

Dave Parsons & Son with ten purebred grade Holsteins were in fourth position for the month with an average of 1,089 pounds of milk and 36.6 pounds of butterfat. One cow was dry.

Fifth place went to J. D. Milliken's herd of seven grade Guernseys, which averaged 746 pounds of milk and 35.7 pounds of butterfat, with one dry cow.

Ten High Cows

The ten high cows were as follows:

1. A purebred Brown Swiss owned by Arthur Booth, producing 1,458 pounds of milk and 634 pounds of butterfat.

2. A purebred Holstein owned by C. B. Keigwin, Jr., producing 1,626 pounds of milk and 634 pounds of fat.

3. A purebred Holstein owned by H. C. Baumgartner producing 1,431 pounds of milk and 63 pounds of fat.

4. A purebred Holstein owned by Short & Johnson producing 1,581 pounds of milk and 60.1 pounds of fat.

5. A purebred Brown Swiss owned by Brown & Sibley producing 1,134 pounds of milk and 60.1 pounds of fat.

6. A purebred Brown Swiss owned by Tom Conley producing 1,332 pounds of milk and 59.9 pounds of fat.

7. A purebred Holstein owned by L. E. Plumley producing 1,701 pounds of milk and 58.5 pounds of fat.

9. A purebred Holstein owned by Frank McDonald producing 1,434 pounds of milk and 57.4 pounds of fat.

10. A purebred Holstein owned by Henry Albrecht producing 1,470 pounds of milk and 55.9 pounds of fat.

The association average for the month was 748 pounds of milk and 29.3 pounds of butterfat with 270 cows on test from 25 herds. Twenty-nine of the cows were dry. Fifty-four cows each produced more than 40 pounds of fat.

Farmers Checking Drainage Systems

With the return of better prices for farm products, Illinois farmers are beginning to pay more attention to the maintenance of drainage improvements which represent an investment of $150,000,000 in this state. Thirty-six per cent, or approximately 11,000,000 acres, of the 31,000,000 acres of farm land in Illinois, is artificially drained according to T. A. Pitzer, extension specialist in agricultural engineering of the state college. There are 6087 miles of open drainage ditches, 3885 miles of tile and 1117 miles of levees in 1919 organized drainage districts of the state. These figures do not include drainage improvements on individual farms. Most of the drainage projects in the state have been completed and it is now a matter of draining the few wet spots which exist on nearly every farm and of maintaining existing improvements. Low prices for farm products forced farmers to neglect drainage maintenance and the need for it was not apparent during drought years. However, rains of the last few months have caused farmers to check their drainage systems and make the improvements necessary. In this section lack of labor has prevented much tile laying on farms.

Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Emma Marie Schmidt was born in Cortland, Ill., June 7, 1872, and spent her early life in that city. She was married there to Fred Averill on November 3, 1892, and shortly afterward moved to Harmon, where they resided for about five years, then moved to Sterling where she spent the remainder of her life. Her husband passed away in 1923.

Mrs. Averill is survived by five children: Mrs. Caroline Abel, Sterling; Miss Doris Averill of Chicago; Clarence Averill of West Chicago; Glenn Averill of Alton, and Charles Averill of New Orleans. La Three children, Helen, George and Logan, preceded her in death. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Elsie Smith, and five brothers, Frank, Charles, Henry, Earl and Edward Schmidt of Sycamore, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Averill had been a lifelong member of the Lutheran church and was affiliated with St. John's English Lutheran church in Sterling as well as the various organizations connected with the church.

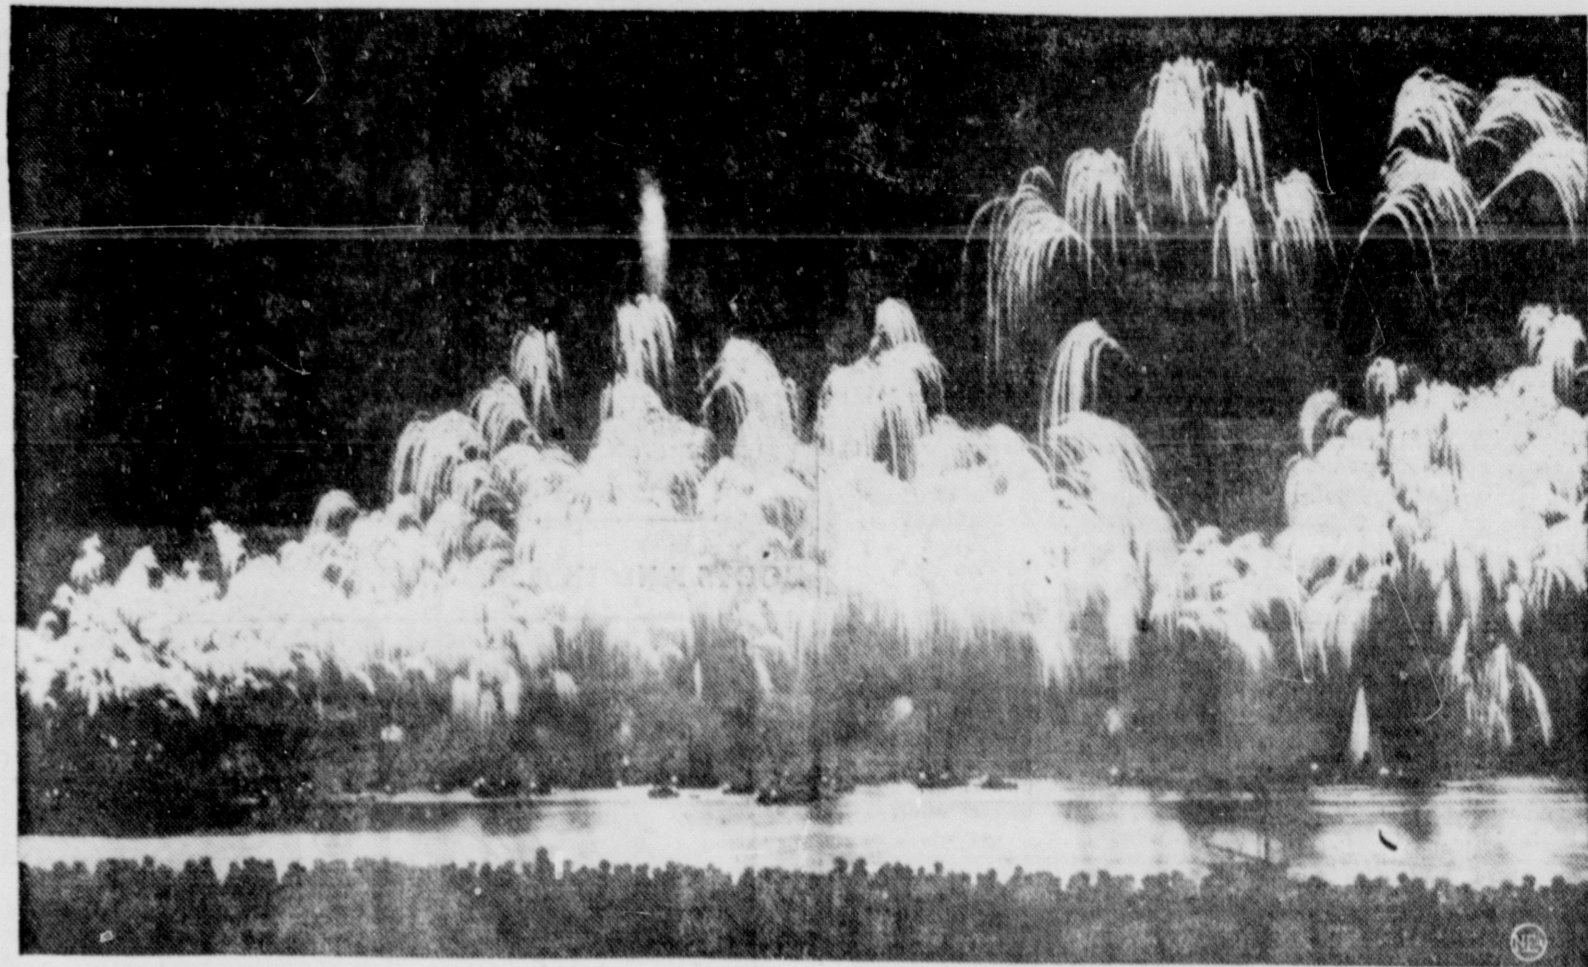

The many friends of Miss Alice Smallwood are rejoicing with her in being the lucky winner of a wrist watch, given away by Trein's jewelry store of Dixon. The big clock in the window of the store stopped on Wednesday on the names of Alice Smallwood and Wilbur Schick, who are to graduate from the Dixon high school soon.

Mrs. John Ryan motored to Amboy Friday afternoon and visited her sister Mrs. Raymond Delhotel, and new baby, at the Amboy hospital.

William Dunphy visited in the Walton vicinity the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Zentz of Rock Falls and Mrs. Jerry Zentz were Friday visitors in Amboy.

Canada's system of national park consists of 20 separate park units covering more than 12,500 square miles.

Some of the million persons who saw this brilliantly colorful night naval review off Spithead, England, following the coronation, may be seen in the immediate foreground, their eyes turned toward the glorious fireworks spectacle brilliantly displayed in the above picture. One hundred and fifty-eight vessels from 18 nations participated in the review before the newly-crowned king and queen of England. So awe-struck was one British commentator that he blurted out "the fleet is all lit up" and then lost his tongue completely. The huge naval parade, both a night and day ceremony, was the conclusion to Britain's coronation ritual.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by "Bully Bill" Hutcheson, whom John L. Lewis floored at the 1935 A. F. of L. convention, is trying to grab off railroad carpenters who do structural work on rights of way. The brotherhood union claims jurisdiction over these workers and the battling is fierce and vengeful.

The third feud also involves the Maintenance-of-Way brotherhood. It is trying to beat off a raid from another A. F. of L. quarter—the Machinists' union, bossed by swarthy Arthur Wharton, who acted as "prosecutor" in the "trial" that preceded the expulsion of the C. I. O. The machinists are seeking to enroll waterpump and other mechanics employed by the railroads.

The C. I. O. is taking no part in these bitter scraps—but it is enjoying them hugely. Reason is that "Labor," weekly newspaper of the brotherhoods, has been very caustic about the C. I. O. denouncing it as a destroyer of worker-unity and fomenter of dissension.

Merry-Go-Round

The next issue of commemorative stamps is likely to be in honor of the American Indian. Postmaster General Farley is considering a request for such an issue from the Indian Bureau. Since 1847, when the first was issued, there have been 26 stamps in honor of the Red-man. . . . The President is a lot luckier in the leaders handling his new labor bill than he was in the pilots of his court measure. Chairman Hugo Black of the Senate Labor Committee is one of the ablest and most resourceful leaders in Congress, and Chairman Bill Connery of the House Labor Committee, while not as effective, is conscientious, hard-working and sincerely for the legislation. . . . Wisconsin Progressives took sharp note of the fact that Representative Tom O'Malley was one of the Democrats who voted for the unsuccessful amendment to bar aliens from federal relief rolls. O'Malley comes from Milwaukee, which has a very large foreign-born population, and the Progressives intend to see that his position on the relief issue is widely publicized among them.

RATE REDUCTION.

Postal Telegraph has announced starting reductions in the rate for overnight telegraph service throughout the United States. According to information received from Clarence H. Mackay, chairman of the board of Postal Telegraph, the new rates go into effect today.

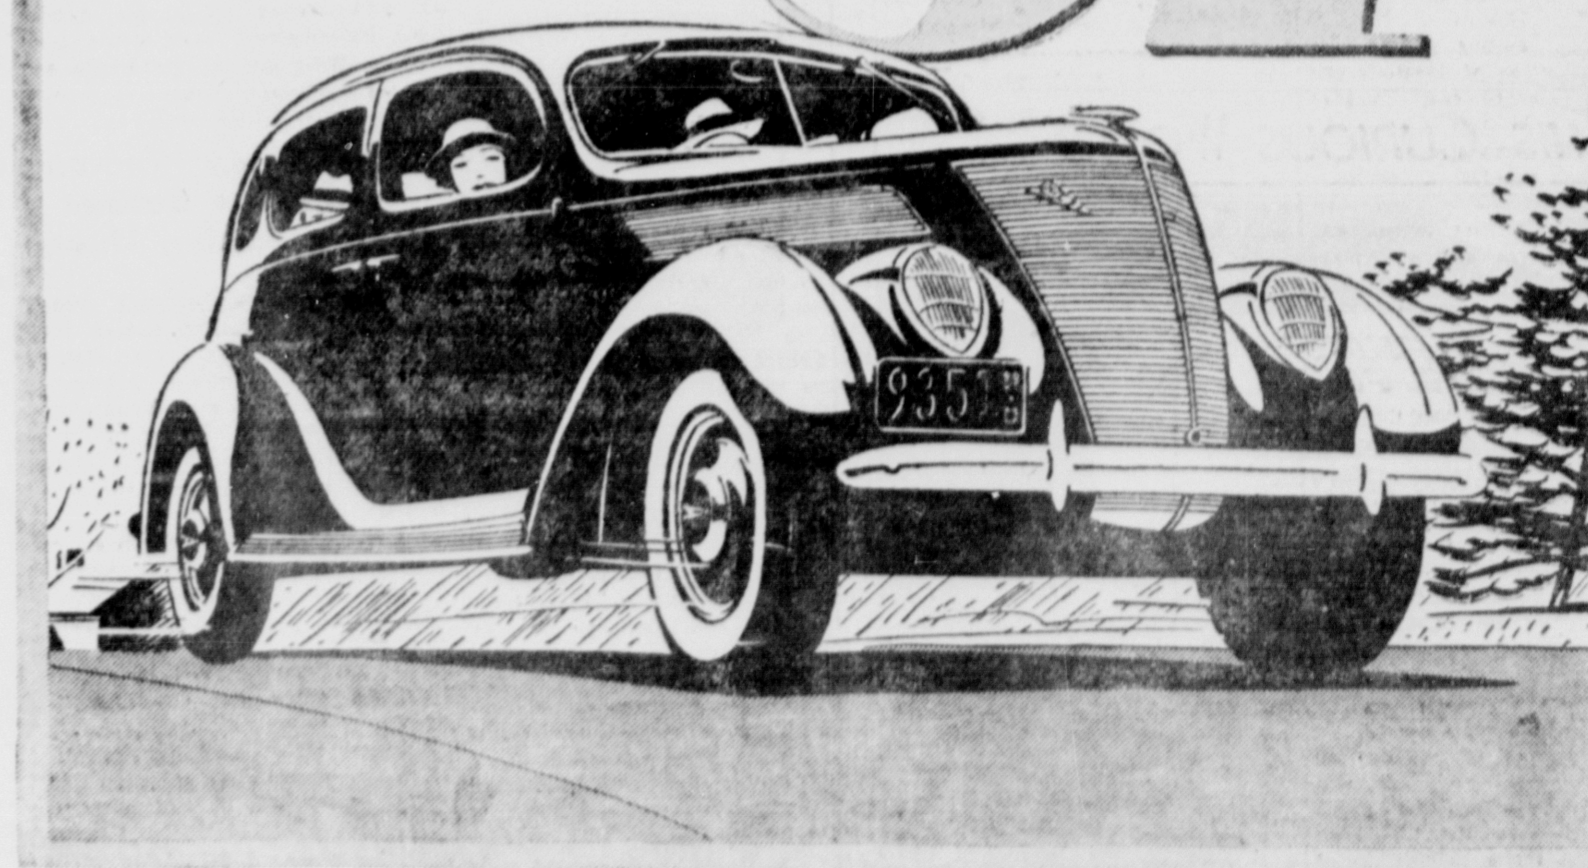

Complete information and the rate schedule will be available at the Postal Telegraph office in the Dixon Home Telephone Co.

FREAK OF NATURE

Springfield, Ill., June 2—(AP)—Sportsmen at Beecher City reported to the conservation department today they had discovered a nest of three kittens and three rabbits being nursed by a mother cat. Game Warden Lee Curry said the nest was found during a crow hunt.

The manufacturing operations that go on inside a leaf, the transforming of inorganic substances into organic substances, are more important to man than any man-made form of manufacture.

at $44,150,000.

THE next day Pats took up the matter of clothes. It was extremely difficult, but when the new wardrobe was assembled she had to admit that it more than answered the very special requirements. The materials were elegant and rich, the colors chosen for their unbecomingness, the styles deliberately ruinous. Green was dismally unsuited to her sallow complexion, so green was the dominant note.

The gowns were severe, they were middle-aged, the waistlines wrong, the necklines too high, the skirts too long. Footwear was a problem since her feet were slender and arched, but by adhering to the so-called health shoe she acquired as wretched an array of slippers as she could possibly wear. Evening frocks were modest in the extreme for she dared not display the smooth loveliness of her back and shoulders.

It was a strange life. She went everywhere with Don and was introduced as his wife. Out of his hearing she allowed her quaint cleverness to rise to the surface and gained a certain popularity despite her appearance. "Terrible looking but rather clever," said the women. "She dances like an angel. Must have something—old Don seems content," added the men.

AND through it all Pats stuck to her resolution. She so thoroughly effaced herself, so satisfactorily protected Don from the pushing, crowding, curious world that when he thought of her at all it was with a wave of gratitude. As one is grateful for a perfect timepiece and pineapple juice chilled exactly to the taste so Don was grateful for Pats.

Rarely she spoke to him unless he started the conversation. Never did she impose her personality upon him!

But as time went on the situation gradually became intolerable to Pats. After all she was only 21, and madly in love with her husband. To sacrifice her loveliness, her perfectly normal joy in being admired—it was asking a bit too much. Sometimes she went early to her room, jerked off the offending disguise, creamed and massaged her weary face until it glowed with renewed freshness, shampooed her hair and gloried in its spun gold softness.

Sometimes she looked longingly at the closed door. Suppose she should open that door, suppose she should walk out, push Don back from his typewriter and throw herself into his arms. Suppose she should say, "I'm your real wife. Love me as I love you."
What then? The temptation was almost unbearable.

BUT the idea grew and blossomed. Other girls had the right to win the men they loved.
This thing couldn't go on indefinitely. She might get sick, there might be a night fire in the hotel, a dozen things might happen. She thought of discarding the disguise gradually, first the complexion, then the glasses, the hip pads and the horrible shoes. She was about to start on this rather doubtful program when an invitation gave her an idea. The daring possibilities of the idea almost took her breath away. For the week preceding the masquerade ball at the fashionable Crayton club her mind was utterly taken up with plans and hopes and fears. Carefully she worked out the crafty details.

At breakfast, on the day of the party, Pats asked a favor of Don.
It was the first since she had known him.

"Don," she said quite innocently,
"my cousin, the one who lives in Oregon, has written that he and her husband will be in New York for a few hours tonight. I feel that I must see them. Could you possibly do without me at the party tonight?"

"Why, of course," Pats held her breath. Suppose Don should suggest meeting her cousin.

She was in a quiver of exot-icment all day. If Don had been even partially aware of her he could not but have noticed her restless activities. Time and again she shut herself in her bedroom, opened boxes and fairly gloated over the contents. With chilly, trembling fingers she lifted shimmering garments to gaze at them with worshipful eyes. Don thought she was to come to the ball, if at all, royally unlovely as Queen Elizabeth. The plan was fitting together like a well-arranged puzzle.

BY 5 Pats' mouth was dry, and despite constant reassurance she was beginning to be panicky and frightened. She scarcely touched her dinner and went immediately to her room, declining Don's offer of the car. Throwing herself on the bed she lay there in the dark, listening, her heart beating wildly.

ILLINOIS CROP PROSPECTS ARE FAIR TO GOOD

Springfield, Ill., June 2 —(AP)—A J. Surratt, federal agricultural statistician reported Tuesday that Illinois' early season crop prospects are "mostly fair to very good."

All crops made excellent progress during May after the delays of the wet spring. Surratt said in his weekly report, and summer heat last week hurried growth and germination.

Corn planting is about 88 per cent completed, still behind recent years, the report stated.

"Corn planting has been completed for several days or is in the final stage except in northern and southeastern Illinois and the crop is up to a good stand," Surratt said. "Soybean planting is well advanced in the central and about half done on the large state acreage this year. Winter wheat has improved and while some stands are ragged and uneven, especially in the east central area, it is quite generally up to average or better in the important producing areas. This crop is coming along better than earlier expectations and is now headed out up to the central part of the state and filling in the south. Rye is a good crop."

"Oats have shown splendid improvement during May. The present prospect is generally reported very good. Pastures are largely good to excellent and providing abundant feed. The condition of livestock is improving due to extensive abundant pasture feed."
